COME THOU FOUNT
OF EVERY BLESSING

Words by Robert Robinson
Music by Ashael Nettleton

1. Come, thou fount of every blessing, Tune my heart to sing Thy grace.
   Streams of mercy, never ceasing,流
   Call for songs of loudest praise. 求

2. Here I raise my Ebenezer, Tune my heart to sing Thy grace.
   And I raise my Ebenezer, Tune my heart to sing Thy grace.
   Streams of mercy, never ceasing,流
   Call for songs of loudest praise. 求

3. O to grace how great a debt I owe!
   Bound by mercy never to be free.
   Some melodious strain, Sung by the舌
   Prone to leave the God I love.

4. Here in the隐居
   I'm fixed upon it; Mount of God's unchangeable love
   Mount of God's unchangeable love
   Interposed for Thy courts above.

5. Here I raise my Ebenezer, Tune my heart to sing Thy grace.
   Hope by Thy good pleasure Safe for songs of loudest praise. 求
   Safe for songs of loudest praise. 求
   Teach me love and home.

6. O to grace how great a debt I owe!
   Bound by mercy never to be free.
   Some melodious strain, Sung by the舌
   Prone to leave the God I love.

7. Here in the隐居
   I'm fixed upon it; Mount of God's unchangeable love
   Mount of God's unchangeable love
   Interposed for Thy courts above.

Public Domain